

EUCALYPTUS PAPUANA GHOST GUM

This relatively small Eucalyptus tree has powdery white trunks, which contrast nicely with its large, light green lance-shaped leaves. It has a semi-weeping growth habit, and produces very little litter. The Arizona Department of Transportation was impressed by the performance of specimens on older freeway rights-of-way, and continues to specify it on new projects because it is not brittle in high winds and has light litter production.
