

JUSTICIA SPICIGERA MEXICAN HONEYSUCKLE

This evergreen shrub is native to Mexico and into South America. Mexican Honeysuckle has large, oval, velvety, medium green leaves. Bright orange tubular flowers are borne in clusters all year in warmer areas and during summers in colder regions. It performs best in filtered sun and well-drained soil. Moderate irrigation is beneficial, but too much will induce chlorosis. Prune as desired to maintain a more compact form.
